
PROJECT MANAGER

Bishop Fox is a leading security consulting firm serving the Fortune 1000 and high-tech startups. We protect our clients by finding vulnerabilities and building defenses before the attackers can break bad. From critical infrastructure to credit cards; social media to mobile games; flight navigation systems to frozen waffle factories — we're right there hacking away.

We're looking for detail-oriented and dedicated project managers to keep our client engagements running smoothly.

Who You Are and What You'll Do

If you had managed the construction of the Death Star, would it have exploded?
Probably not.

You are something of a "people person" when it comes to work and you genuinely enjoy building and maintaining client relationships. You have a not-so-secret weak spot for a good Gantt chart; resource allocation, scheduling, and project management software set your heart aflutter.

As a project manager at Bishop Fox, you will be multitasking, collaborating, and communicating day in and day out. You'll use formal and informal methods to connect with colleagues and clients — you would send a message on carrier pigeon if need be.

On client engagements, you'll set, meet, and exceed expectations. With colleagues, you'll ensure your team has the tools, documentation, and input needed to complete a successful project. You'll manage scope creep, risks, documentation, and project issues. From internal teams to client-facing, you'll lead internal alignment, client kick-off, internal and client-facing status, delivery, and closeout meetings. You will herd cats, and they will love you for it.
